DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1,15,17, 27,and 29 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,16, 29 of U.S. Patent No. 6,722,735. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because when claims (1 &15) and (27 &29) are combined the claimed subject matter in the present invention is taught in the above claims of the aforementioned patent. The claimed subject matter of the present invention is the same as that which is taught in the above patent, but with broader or slightly different language or terms.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 15 and 23-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ambasz (4,046,422). Ambasz discloses the use of a chair comprising a seat member having a seat back (22), seat bottom (20), and a intermediated portion (119) connected between the seat back and seat bottom, and a bottom support member (36) having a surface slidably supporting the seat bottom, a seat back support member connected to the bottom support member and the seat back, a pivot element (80) connected to the seat back support member and pivotably supporting the seat back; wherein the intermediate portion deforms as the seat back pivots about the pivot element and the pivot element and the seat bottom slides along the bearing surface in response to the deformation of the intermediate portion ( this is inherently carried out when the occupant sits in the seat). In regards to claim 15, bottom support member includes at least one ground engaging leg (26), and at least one elongated bar (24) connected to and supported by the leg, at least one elongated bar defining the bearing surface; and the seat bottom includes at least one slide block attached thereto, said at least one slide block defining a channel for slidably receiving said at least one elongated bar. In regards to claim 23, the intermediate portion (119) includes a slack region that is recessed relative to a plane including the seat back. In regards to claim 24, the intermediate portion has a reduced width less than a largest width of the seat back. The applicant attention is drawn to figures 1-6.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2,27, 29,30 and 35-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ambasz in view of Matte (5,076,646). Ambasz shows the use of all the claimed invention but fails to show the use of all the claimed invention but fails to show the use of a seat member being a one-piece shell. Matte teaches the use of a one- piece shell (10). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to modify a chair with a one-piece shell as taught by Matte, in order to provide comfort to the occupant when in the seated position.

Claims 3 and 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ambasz in view of Perry (5,338,094). Ambasz shows the use of all the claimed invention but fails to show the use of a support bar spanning at least a portion of the seat back and a mounting pad defining a recess configured to pivotably engage said support bar. Perry teaches the use of a support bar (30) spanning at least a portion of the seat back and a mounting pad (17) defining a recess configured to pivotably engage said support bar, see figures 1-2.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4,17-18,20-21 and 31 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents are cited to further show the state of the art with respect to a chair: U.S Pat. No. 5123702, 5662381, 5018791, US00D455570S, US00D464208S, US005904397A, 5035466, 4733910, 4856846.
